RE: Testimonial for PEP

I originally did PEP because I wanted to organise my days better and free up time to work on my capital projects. I now find that I'm going about my day in a much more structured way and I'm training myself to do my tasks straightaway and not leave them and finding that they build up.

I'm finding the project planning model very helpful in clarifying the end result, and also using the tools like memory map, setting timelines and completing the weekly WRAP. As result of having my physical and electronic files aligned, I am finding it much easier to locate information. The outcome of all of this is that I am spending much more time working on my big rocks.

I think PEP has contributed to our corporate strategy by having everyone focused on working the same way at all levels within the organisation. For me, I found PEP much more practical than other training programs because it is focused on what you do and demonstrates how you should be working.

Yours sincerely,

Scott Laurence
